

IACVA®

By Bill Hanlin, Jr. President
Beijing, China

The International Association of Consultants, Valuators & Analysts (IACVA) added China to the growing list of countries that offer the CVA to valuation professionals.

This class is the first of what is sure to be many more in the future. The Monday session was opened with a welcoming address by Professor Yue, followed by the Vice Commissioner of Market Monitoring Department of the China SEC, who explained to the students the importance of uniform valuation application for Chinese businesses.

This training session was held during the last week of November 2008. IACVA officials hosted a traditional American Thanksgiving Day banquet for all of those attending the training!

The business valuation training center was co-sponsored by the China Appraisal Society (CAS) and the IACVA-China Charter member. The class included 36 students; over half of them have extensive experience as valuers. Instruction was provided by Bill Hanlin, CPA, CVA, CFE, CFD, and Richard Claywell, CPA, CVA, CFE, CM&AA; interpreter was Susan Yi, CPA, CVA. Visiting instructors were Samuel Chen, CVA (Hong Kong) and Peter Chen, CVA (Taiwan).

On-site support from CAS was provided by Ms. Rong Hua Shao, Ms. Shirley Sun and Mr. Fern Yang. IACVA – China was supported by Mr. Yi Zhou, Director of Member Services.

IACVA officials note that CVA training is now taking place in twelve countries.
